We were very fortunate to have chosen Dennis and Marjorie Meckel as the Builders of our Hill Country Style home in River Chase, completed on 12/31/07. Linda and I were knowledgeable of many of the aspects of construction, and were aware of a multitude of tasks that could be compromised for cost or be done wrong. Selection of Dennis and Marjorie as our Builders was the result of many hours spent following their construction techniques, and comparing to that of many other builders. We were impressed with the planning, structurally correctness, and with the quality of finish work, of Dennis and Marjorie Meckel Homes.

Marjorie's handling of bookkeeping, management of construction schedule, and payment of bills for materials and subcontractor labor, prevented financial or legal problems during the construction process. All of the subcontractors were "Top Quality", and there were no gaps in the construction process due to a failure to show up. Marjorie offered many helpful suggestions as we selected plumbing fixtures, tile, hardware, and paint options.

Dennis prepared a detailed accurate bid based on our plans (Designer was Pam Crocket of New Braunfels) and specifications – and there were no surprises or unexpected costs. He was willing to make changes, and made many good suggestions. Structural quality was much better than specified due to his building knowledge and practice of "constructing the right way". He comes from a family of builders and is a true craftsman. This is reflected in his cabinetry and trim work, and the other jobs he did to "bridge" between subcontractors.

We can highly recommend Dennis and Marjorie as skilled, knowledgeable, quality, and honest, Custom Builders.
